Radio stations must upload the following materials:

- New political broadcasting material
- Citizen agreements
- Annual EEO Public File Reports
- Quarterly issues/programs lists
- Local public notice announcements about license renewal applications
- Time brokerage/local marketing and joint sales agreements
- Copies of contracts subject to FCC filing
  - (or a complete and up-to-date list of those contracts)
- Materials related to FCC investigations or complaints (other than Letters of Inquiry requests from the FCC)
- Noncommercial radio stations' donor lists
- The station's main studio address and telephone number, and the email address for a designated person available to help with public file questions
- Form 302-AM paper filing: local or upload

- Existing political file materials
- Authorizations, applications and related materials
- Ownership reports and related materials
- EEO Reports
- The Public and Broadcasting manual
- Letters of Inquiry and other investigative requests from the FCC
  - (unless otherwise directed by the inquiry itself)
- Contour maps:
  - the FCC will create contour maps for purposes of the online file for both AM and FM stations
- Letters and emails from the public are exempt from the online file due to privacy concerns. Instead, radio stations should retain such material in a local correspondence file at the station. (Until Rule is eliminated)

The Enforcement Bureau (EB) is the primary FCC unit responsible for enforcing the provisions of the Communications Act, the Commission's rules, orders, and various licensing terms and conditions. EB's mission is to investigate and respond quickly to potential unlawful conduct to ensure: (1) consumer protection in an era of complex communications; (2) a level playing field to promote robust competition; (3) efficient and responsible use of the public airwaves; and (4) strict compliance with public safety-related rules.

Public can easily track new files being uploaded by media entities:

1. Quick View - this entity-specific complete list of documents sorted by date and time.
Example: Files uploaded by WJLA-TV: <https://publicfiles.fcc.gov/tv-profile/wjla-tv/document-uploads/>
2. Search - displays file names or folders matching a keyword or partial keyword.
Example: Files matching “agree” at WCBS-TV: <https://publicfiles.fcc.gov/tv-profile/wcbs-tv/search/agree/>
3. RSS - (Really Simple Syndication) reader notified of new uploads in a broad variety of ways.
Example: Follow all files uploaded by KGTW: <https://publicfiles.fcc.gov/tv-profile/kgtv/rss/>

RSS - A very powerful tool to customize notifications.

- Examples:
  - Follow all files uploaded by Station
  - Follow Citizen Agreements from All stations
  - Follow Presidential candidates from a Station

Public Inspection Files

This site provides summary information about, and access to, the "public inspection file" (or "public file") for the following types of entities: licensed full-service radio and television broadcast stations, Class A television stations, cable television systems, direct broadcast satellite ("DBS") providers, and satellite radio (also referred to as "Satellite Digital Audio Radio Services" or "SDARS") licensees.

The Commission first adopted rules requiring broadcast stations to keep a public file more than 40 years ago and certain political programming files have been public for nearly 75 years. The public file for broadcast stations contains a variety of information about each station's operations and service to its community of license, including information about political time sold or given away by each station, quarterly lists of the most significant programs each station aired concerning issues of importance to its community, data on ownership of each station and active applications each station has filed with the Commission. The Commission adopted the public inspection file requirement to "make information to which the public already has a right more readily available, so that the public will be encouraged to play a more active part in dialogue with broadcast licensees."

Cable, DBS, and SDARS entities also have public and political file requirements. These entities' political file requirements are substantially similar to those of television and radio broadcasters. Apart from the political file, however, cable, DBS, and SDARS entities' other public file requirements differ somewhat from the public file requirements applicable to broadcasters.

- Broadcast Station Public Inspection Files
- FCC Authorizations (as required by 73.3526(e)(1), 73.3527(e)(1)) (retain until replaced). These are the instruments issued by the Commission to individuals or companies that authorize broadcasting or other use of radio transmissions in connection with broadcasting and include licenses and permits to construct or modify broadcast facilities.
- Applications and related materials (as required by 73.3526(e) (2), 73.3527(e) (2)) (retain until final action taken on the application). These are applications and supporting documents or exhibits submitted to the Commission seeking such things as broadcast licenses, construction permits, special operating authority, or consent to the sale of an existing broadcast facility.
- Contour Maps (as required by 73.3526(e)(4), 73.3527(e)(3)) (retain as long as they reflect current, accurate information regarding the station). These are graphical representations or "maps" of the area in which a broadcast station provides a particular level of signal strength over-the-air. They are useful, but general, indications of where service might be expected to be received from the station. They do not account, however, for the availability of a station's signal carried by cable or satellite service providers, nor do they suggest that every point inside the contour will receive over-the-air service.
- Ownership reports and related materials (as required by 73.3526(e)(5), 73.3527(e)(4)) (retain until a new, complete ownership report is filed with the FCC). These reports are filed every other year and in connection with the sale of a broadcast station and reflect what entities and individuals hold "attributable" interests in a broadcast station (that is, interests the Commission deems convey some influence over the station).
- Equal Employment Opportunity file (as required by 73.3526(e)(7), 73.3527(e)(6)) (retain until final action taken on the station's next license renewal application). The Commission requires stations employing five or more full-time employees to maintain in their public inspection file the following reports regarding their EEO activities: an EEO public file report that is prepared annually; FCC Form 396 – an EEO Program Report that is filed with the FCC as part of the station's license renewal application; FCC Form 397 – an EEO Mid-term Report that is filed with the FCC at the mid-point of a license term; and, for buyers of a station or new licensees, FCC Form 396-A – a Model EEO Program Report that is filed with the FCC.
- The Public and Broadcasting manual (as required by 73.3526(e)(8), 73.3527(e)(7)) (retain most recent version indefinitely). This pamphlet, written by the Commission, is intended to explain in understandable terms the various aspects and purposes of broadcast service, the Commission's regulation of it, broadcasters' obligations, and how the public can participate in the Commission's licensing and other administrative processes involving their local broadcast stations.
- Children's television programming reports (FCC Form 398) (as required by 73.3526(e)(11)(iii)) (retain until final action taken on the station's next license renewal application). Commercial television stations must prepare and place in their public inspection files a report (Form 398) each calendar quarter that identifies the educational and informational programming for children that they aired.
- DTV transition education reports (FCC Form 388) (as required by 73.3526(e)(11)(iv), 73.3527(e)(13)) (retain for one year after last filed). This form reports efforts by television stations to inform their audiences on the stations' progress in making the transition to full digital service. Because virtually all such stations required to do so have fully converted to digital mode, this form is only relevant to a very small number of stations and will soon become obsolete.

- Citizen agreements (as required by 73.3526(e)(3)) (retain for term of agreement). These are agreements between citizens' groups and broadcast stations that are entered primarily for noncommercial purposes and that deal directly or indirectly with the stations' broadcast service to their communities. Not all stations will have such agreements, but if they do, they must be in the public file.
- Political file (as required by 73.3526(e)(6), 73.3527(e)(5)) (retain for two years). This file must contain all requests for specific schedules of advertising time by candidates and certain issue advertisers, as well as the final dispositions or "deals" agreed to by the broadcaster and the advertiser in response to any requests. It is not necessary to retain any of the materials relating to the negotiation between the parties to reach the disposition. Finally, the file must include the reconciliation of the deal such as a description of when advertising actually aired, advertising preempted, and the timing of any make-goods of preempted time, as well as credits or rebates provided the advertiser. The request and disposition must be placed in the file as soon as possible, which the Commission has determined is immediately absent extraordinary circumstances. The reconciliation information need not be placed in the file immediately but the broadcaster must identify a person or persons at the station capable of informing an advertiser of the details of any reconciliation information.
  - All television stations have transitioned their political file material to the online file as of July 1, 2014.
  - Commercial radio stations in the top 50 radio markets as defined by Nielsen Audio (formerly Arbitron) that have 5 or more full-time employees must begin uploading their public and political files on June 24, 2016. All other radio stations are exempt from online filing until March 1, 2018, when they will begin uploading new public and political files to the online site on a going-forward basis. On that date, these stations must also have uploaded to the online file all existing public file material, with the exception of existing political files which stations are permitted, but not required, to upload to the online public file. Existing political files must be retained, either in the local public file or in the Commission's online public file, until the end of the retention period.
- Letters and e-mails from the public (as required by 73.3526(e)(9)) (retain three years from receipt). These are written or email comments or suggestions received by stations from the public that concern the operation of the station. Largely for privacy reasons, these will be retained at the stations in either paper or electronic form and will not be made available online.
- Material relating to FCC investigations and complaints (as required by 73.3526(e)(10), 73.3527(e)(11)) (retain until notified in writing that the material may be discarded). This is material that has a substantial bearing on an FCC investigation or complaint to the FCC involving the station and of which the station is aware. Some or all of the material in this category may be excluded from the public file at the Commission's direction (for example, Letters of Inquiry from the Enforcement Bureau should be excluded in order to protect the investigation process).

- Issues/Programs lists (as required by 73.3526(e)(11)(i), 73.3527(e)(8)) (retain until final action taken on the station's next license renewal application). These are quarterly lists prepared by stations of programs they aired during the preceding quarter that provided the stations' most significant treatment of community issues.
- Donor lists for non-commercial educational channels ("NCEs") (as required by 73.3527(e)(9)) (retain for two years from the date of the broadcast of the specific program reported). These are lists of donors that have supported specific programs aired by the stations.
- Records concerning children's programming commercial limits (as required by 73.3526(e)(11)(ii)) (retain until final action taken on the station's next license renewal application). These are records that substantiate commercial television stations' compliance with the Children's Television Act of 1990 and the FCC's rules that limit the type and amount of advertising during TV programming that is directed to children 12 and under.
- Local public notice certifications and announcements (as required by 73.3526(e)(13), 73.3527(e)(10)) (retain for as long as the application to which it refers). These are certifications that the full-service broadcast station has made the necessary public on-air announcements when it files an application with the FCC for renewal of its broadcast license.
- Time brokerage agreements (as required by 73.3526(e)(14)) (retain for as long as contract or agreement in force). These are contracts or agreements that allow one or more parties other than the station's owner to provide programming, sell advertising time in the brokered programming and, in some cases, operate the station on a day-to-day basis. These agreements are sometimes referred to as Local Marketing Agreements or LMAs. Confidential or proprietary information, may be redacted from these documents.
- Must-Carry or retransmission consent elections (for commercial television stations) or must-carry requests (noncommercial television stations) (as required by 73.3526(e)(15), 73.3527(e)(12)) (retain for duration of election or request period). These are statements of a station's election to be carried on multichannel video program distributor (MVPD) systems, such as cable systems or direct broadcast satellite services, either by negotiated retransmission consent agreements or by mandatory carriage under the Commission's rules.
- Joint sales agreements (as required by 73.3526(e)(16)) (retain for as long as contract or agreement in force). These are contracts or agreements that allow one or more parties other than the station's owner to sell advertising time on the station. Confidential or proprietary information may be redacted from these documents.

- Class A TV continuing eligibility documentation (as required by 73.3526(e)(17)) (retain indefinitely). These are documents that substantiate the continuing eligibility of a low-power television station for Class A status, which affords the station the same interference protection as a full power television station. To retain Class A status, the station must broadcast at least 18 hours per day, and air at least three hours per week of locally produced programming.
- Sponsorship Identification - Political Matter and Controversial Issues of Public Importance (as required by 73.1212(e)) (retain for two years). This file contains a list of the chief executive officers or members of the executive committee or board of directors, as applicable, of any entity that has paid for or furnished broadcast programming that is "political matter or matter involving the discussion of a controversial issue of public importance." This additional sponsorship identification information must be kept by all broadcast stations in their public inspection file pursuant to Section 73.1212(e) of the FCC's rules. To the extent stations place this material in their political file, which is common industry practice and which satisfies the rule's disclosure requirement, they would be required to upload these files on the same schedule as their political files. As noted elsewhere, all television stations have transitioned their political file material to the online file as of July 1, 2014. Commercial radio stations in the top 50 radio markets as defined by Nielsen Audio (formerly Arbitron) that have 5 or more full-time employees must begin uploading their public and political files on June 24, 2016. All other radio stations are exempt from online filing until March 1, 2018, when they will begin uploading new public and political files to the online site on a going-forward basis. On that date, these stations must also have uploaded to the online file all existing public file material, with the exception of existing political files which stations are permitted, but not required, to upload to the online public file. Existing political files must be retained, either in the local public file or in the Commission's online public file, until the end of the retention period.

- Retention As long as they reflect current, accurate information regarding the station.
- What's in here? These are graphical representations or "maps" of the area in which a broadcast station provides a particular level of signal strength over-the-air. They are useful, but general, indications of where service might be expected to be received from the station. They do not account, however, for the availability of a television station's signal carried by cable or satellite service providers, nor do they suggest that every point inside the contour will receive over-the-air service.

- Rolling out synchronization module for FCC's online public inspection file.
- Discovered some confusing file folder issues.
  - E.g., In the EEO Category, there are 2 folders listed in nay station accounts:
    - EEO Audits, Complaints and Investigations
    - EEO Audits-Complaints-Investigations
- Broadcast1Source works through to solve these issues and get all your public file materials uploaded correctly
